Med New Job

For millennia we have lived "in" the sea; now we want to live "from" the sea.

A new opportunity arises for your professional future in the nautical sector and the Blue Economy.

ASPAL and CIPNES Gallura are promoting a pilot initiative for guidance and career transition into the maritime sector.

Med New Job

Cross-border platform for the promotion of active labor policies in crisis areas/situations, aimed at creating sustainable and quality employment in the Nautical sector and the Blue Economy.

Partner | Mission

CIPNES Gallura and ASPAL are promoting a project for entrepreneurial regeneration in the nautical sector through the territorial experimentation of a “Life Long Learning” system.

The initiative is aligned with the professional needs of SMEs, matches the development and innovation trajectories of the productive fabric, and is oriented towards the employment and production opportunities of Sardinia’s Blue Economy.

General Objectives

To promote the creation of new business ventures and sustainable employment in the nautical sector and the Blue Economy.

Specific Objectives:

- Reintegrate job seekers and/or employees at risk of exclusion from the labor market linked to the Blue Economy sector.
- Train and (re)qualify professional profiles demanded by the labor market, strategic for innovation and the competitive development of the nautical sector and the Blue Economy.

Key Activities:

Organization of an integrated, circular training pathway combining “on desk” and “on the job” learning, which includes:

- Orientation, training, and support for business creation
- Job Discovery phase with company visits
- Job Matching phase aimed at facilitating company placement

Target Audience:

Unemployed individuals and/or employees at high risk of job loss and exclusion from the labor market, who wish to leverage the skills acquired throughout their professional life by developing their own qualified and sustainable business project within the Blue Economy sector.
